Realism and Webfare

10th-11th July

Istituto Italiano di Studi
Filosofici, Naples

"In June 2011, in Naples, at the Istituto Italiano per gli Studi Filosofici, I met a young German colleague, Markus Gabriel, who was planning an international conference on the fundamental character of contemporary philosophy. Markus asked me what, in my opinion, would be an appropriate title for the conference, and I replied: New Realism."

Maurizio Ferraris, Manifesto of New Realism (2012)

Fifteen years later, hope has become reality. New Realism has given rise to one of the most influential philosophical debates of the 21st century. Today, its protagonists, together with a new generation of philosophers, return to the scene of the crime in Naples to discuss one of its most ambitious legacies: Webfare, the project of a digital welfare state.
